Training Sessions
For Managers

Make Lean Six Sigma Work For You !

Lets say :-

- Your organisation has adopted Lean Six Sigma as a methodology for improvement.
- Specific people who work for you have been trained as expert practitioners in the many tools and techniques.
- However, the task of managing the performance of the operation is still yours.

You need to maximise the benefits which Lean Six Sigma can bring, so :-

- How should you go about this ?
- What should you expect from practitioners ?
- What management approaches should you take ?
- How do you make LSS an integral part of your management system ?
- How do you maintain momentum ?

We will explore and answer these types of questions on this training session.

The course is based on :-

- Group and individual exercises
- Thought provoking discussions
- Some fun stuff !
