Lean Six Sigma – Yellow Belt

This training is designed to give participants an introduction to business process improvement using Lean Six Sigma techniques.

We cover:

- What is Lean Six Sigma? Why use it?
- How can I apply it in my organisation?
- The Lean Six Sigma improvement model; the theory and the practice. We give you the benefit of our many years of experience in using this model.
- We provide explanations and examples of well established problem solving tools.
- You'll practice using all of the best techniques, and we'll show you how to utilise them straight away.

We use creative exercises to engage participant groups in the learning. We really want you to enjoy it!

This training is normally two days in duration but can be customised to your requirements.

Our standard course is designed to give a very practical introduction to business process improvement using Lean Six Sigma. By the end of the course, you'll know exactly how to start applying the methods.

Comprehensive course manuals are provided for your future reference.

Yellow Belt Training - kick start your Lean Six Sigma process improvement journey!

After completing this course you have the option of project coaching. We lead you through your first Yellow Belt Project. Your organisation gets a direct return on investment and you get the benefit of our support through the process. This is a certificated approach.

"One of the best training courses I've ever done. Huge amount of learning, but made very accessible. Great fun too!"
